

#HAVhope

Join the American Hospital Association June 3rd to #HAVhope and Stand Against Violence

On June 3rd, AHA will launch our sixth annual #HAVhope Friday to focus national attention on our commitment to ending all forms of violence in our workplaces and communities. Like last year, it will be primarily a digital media campaign using shared tweets, posted photos and other online efforts.

#HAVhope Friday

A NATIONAL DAY OF AWARENESS

Violence is one of the nation's major public health and safety issues, both in our communities and workplaces. #HAVhope unites hospitals, health systems, nurses, doctors and other professionals from across the country, as well as the local and national organizations they work with, to raise awareness of violence using digital media.

How can you support #HAVhope Friday?

- 1 Download and print the HAVhope sign from our website.
- 2 Share a photo in your workplace or community of those who are committed to combating violence, ideally holding the HAVhope sign. Photos will be displayed on the AHA Hospitals Against Violence website at www.aha.org/HAVhope.
- 3 Use #HAVhope on social media to highlight your work or commitment to stand against violence in your community or workplace.
- 4 Encourage others that stand against workplace and community violence to participate.
